R : The recommendation is to adopt the State Seal of Civic Engagement

R : Civic learning has been in decline since the 1980s at the time of civil rights movement for access of civics and government to the current state; partially meaning that not all students would have access to learning about their civic influence post school integration. By definition, marginalized communities are not well served, and are often reluctant to engage with the institutions that marginalize them. Students from marginalized communities are less interested in learning about civic engagement and democratic governance setting up a system where the marginalized co-opted to continue marginalizing themselves.

To support all students (and remind all adults) to learn and practice their voice and agency in a representative democracy SUSD about the SSE and develop a set of district criteria and a process for juniors and seniors to apply for the SSE award this school year.
